

CWOSE attendees and friends. During CWOSE 2018, some photos were taken, mainly during the awards ceremony. As some of you may wish to use these photos, they have been uploaded to a "dropbox" connected to a sponsor of our fair, the 3 sigma institute*.

Note: This year's photos are a bit blurry as the room lighting was challenging us and my camera did not have enough battery power to allow us to take flash pictures. You are welcome to download these photos should you wish, however do not share this link except within the CWOSE attendee community unless you do so according to COPPA regulations. Downloading individual photos for use by yourself or within your educational community is fine as long as you respect individual's privacy such as described in the same COPPA regulations regarding dissemination of information about minors.

If you want access to the link to the drop-box, kindly send me (David H) a note and let me know the reason as well as your connection to the event.

*The 3 sigma institute is a non-profit organization founded by Dr. Ralph Garono, principal scientist of Earth Design Consultants. <http://www.3sigmainstitute.org/> Naturally, you are welcome to learn more about the institute if you wish.
